A special program has been for every night and no pains have been spared to make it a success, both socially and financially. J. H. L.

Publisher E. E. Cooper.

Edward Electricity Cooper, to our mind makes no mistake when he tells in the last issue of his paper what he has done to make Negro journalism a success throughout this broad land. We today regard Mr. Cooper as the most successful Afro American publisher in America. Then, too, Ed is pretty true to his friends when he wants to be, and for these and many other reasons we are at a loss to see why some lesser newspaper lights are eternally trying to "kill off" the race's most successful publisher.—The Times-Speaker.

An Enterprising Firm.

The advertisement of Mr. Jesse J. Madden and Company, whose place of business is on the corner of 8th and S streets, northwest, appears in this issue of The Colored American. The firm makes a specialty of tinning, heating, painting, setting latrobes and all kinds of general work of this character. It has been in the business twelve years and by close application, as well as careful study of the growth of this business, it is able to turn out the best work, make repairs on short notice and guarantee general satisfaction. It makes a bid for the trade of the colored people and asks for a fair trial. It does the work for Freedmen's Hospital, Howard University and a number of other public institutions and refers to the heads of these departments for reference.

CHRISTMAS DELINEATOR

The Christmas number of The Delineator is about the first of the special Christmas issues. It is a beauty. The cover is a most artistic production, showing a beautifully gowned woman, standing gracefully in a brilliantly lighted salon. Two charming love stories, one by Cyrus Townsend Brady, plenty of advice regarding Christmas Gifts, timely pointers on Cookery, Winter-time care of Plants, all the fashions of the day interpreted into simple language, can be found in the Christmas number of The Delineator. It is a splendid magazine, satisfactory inside and out. There is no magazine for women at present published that is more practical in all its pages. As a Xmas gift itself, it bears its own recommendation.

MRS. YATES IS HONORED.

Her Admirers Remember Her in a Substantial Manner,

Kansas City, Mo., Special—A few of our people get honor when honor is due, I think when one is worthy of it, it should be given them.

On last Saturday afternoon, one of the Kansas City clubs met at the residence of Mrs. Fairfax 14th street and after spending an enjoyable afternoon the guest were invited to assemble in the front parlor. Our honorable and much esteemed president of the National Womens' Association, Mrs. Josephine Silone Yates, was escorted into the parlor and given a seat, when Miss Anna H. Jones (one of the Kansas City high school teachers,) arose and delivered a fine address to the guest and at the close presented the worthy president with two beautiful presents from the club, consisting of a very handsome silver butter knife and sugar spoon. This was surely a surprise to the President, but with that usual grace and readiness, she arose and thanked the club with fitting words which come so natural from her.

MRS. J. SILONE YATES.

On the Friday evening before, one of the leagues met at the residence of Prof. Crosthwait and at the close of the meeting the President of the N. W. A. was presented with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers. This shows that our new President is loved and esteemed at home as well as abroad.

Very respectfully,

T. E. H. WASSOM,

November 14th, 1901.
